SORE HANDS

Itching, Burning, Bleeding, Cured by Cuticura.

Soak the hands, on retiring, in a hot, thick lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment. Bandage lightly in old cotton or wear old gloves.
This treatment is priceless for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough,
and chapped hands,
and for dry, itching palms, and is equally effective for sore feet.
Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment, to heal the skin, and Cuticura Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood, have become the favorites for the treatment of all torturing, disfiguring humors, diseases, and affections of the skin, scalp, and blood of infants, children, and adults.

Lee & Osgood's White Pine and Tar Cough Syrup

THE FIRST SIGN that it is Lee & Osgood's is a feeling I AM COUGH-ING LESS.

THE SECOND SIGN is a certain action on the entire system, quite distinct from that of any other cough syrup, and one that only the Lee & Osgood's White Pine and Tar possesses.

THE THIRD SIGN is the rapid disappearance of the cough and the complete satisfaction of the customer.

BROADWAY THEATER.

"This Woman and This Man."

"This Woman and This Man," an emotional drama, centering about the sacrifices of a mother for her child, and dealing with great human emotions, will be seen here at the Broadway Theater on Friday, Oct. 28, Miss Minnie Vitorson, whose work in "The Straight Road," "The Squaw Man" and "Under Southern Skies" has made her favorably known wherever there is a theatrical public, will appear. In her new play, which is the work of Avery Hopwood, author of "Clothes," and other big dramatic successes, Miss Vitorson will portray a modern type of woman, confronted with social isolation, who has the courage to conquer almost insuperable difficulties, and who finally achieves happiness for herself and her boy, and the regeneration of the man she loves.

BREED THEATER.

The Little Teacher, Sensational Bio-graph Picture.

The management of the Breed theater has shown its customary wisdom in selecting for the latter half of the week the tremendously popular bio-graph subject, entitled "The Little Teacher." It is said that youth and authority never so hand in hand, and in this brilliantly dramatic feature a decidedly young and pretty girl is sent to a country school to teach the young idea, but finds that many of the young ladies are her equals, and some are much larger. She has many obstacles set in her path by the bullies of the class, finally calling upon a surveyor who is passing to quell a rural riot that is taking place. She is fascinated with the young surveyor for his chival-rous deed, but as he is a married man, she is attracted by the noble heartedness of the bully of the class, who is elated because of the discovery of the surveyor's harmlessness, and his own prospects of becoming master of his teacher's heart.
As usual, the balance of the pictures are in the same class of excellence, there being many to entertain and delight.

Miss Florence Wolcott, the young prima donna, who is making such a hit at the Breed, will be heard in an entirely new programme of operatic numbers, her concert number being one of the most difficult and beautiful in her repertoire.
The Hudson-Fulton Naval Parade will be shown as the great feature.

THE AUDITORIUM.

Record breaking business confirms our prediction that the bill this week would be one of "the best yet." Sometimes one or two features in a show please, but in the excellent programme provided this week each and every act is a decided hit. The roaring farce "A Fool and His Money is one continual lunch from start to finish, and in the hands of such capable performers as Ellsworth, Perry and Downing it proves a veritable whirlwind of mirth.
Dilla and Templeton, the Boneless Boys, introduce several routines of snaky contortions, some of which are hair raising. Their acrobatic surroundings their work, creating an atmosphere of mystery. Fred Morton has a clever specialty, his trick harmonica playing and dexterous paper tearing meeting with great success. The Person Sisters, a pair of neat appearing young ladies, introduce several song novelties, which are winners.
Lillian Morelle is gaining favor every day with her coloratura song, "Staccato Polka." Thursday night she will sing the latest child ballad, "Daddy Wants Some One, Too."

An entire change of motion pictures is promised for Wednesday and Thursday, with two new feature reels.

One Woman's Answer.

A good many foolish questions are propounded, many of them by business men who ought to know better.
If most of us were to be queried as to what we are doing with our money, we should probably reply: "Oh, I'm doing our darndest to make it stretch far enough to meet the various and constant demands upon it—trying in vain to prove that there is such a thing as an "elastic currency." A more specific answer was given by a Cleveland woman, according to The Leader of that city. To this woman there came from a banking concern one of those familiar and alluring pamphlets entitled, "What is your money doing?" The woman calmly returned the booklet to the bank, after writing on the cover this sarcastic legend:
"Buying beefsteak at 28 cents a pound, eggs at 32 cents a dozen and milk at 8 cents a quart."
—Providence Journal.

The State Federation of Women's clubs in Kentucky three years ago began a campaign against illiteracy. It formed 108 school improvement leagues in the 119 counties of the state and offered $300 as a prize to the rural school that did the most to make itself a model public school. The prize has just been awarded to the Buckhorn school in Owsley county.
